

Cross Rock Backers To Compare Power Projects

BANGOR—Supporters of the controversial Cross Rock hydroelectric power project will lay the groundwork this week for "a hard-fought and factual comparison" between their plan and the $237 million Dickey-Lincoln School project which President Johnson will send to Congress Monday.

Malcolm S. Stevenson, attorney for the Maine Citizens Committee for the Maine Power Authority, said in a statement Sunday that the comparison will be included in technical data to be proposed for a special joint committee of the Maine Legislature created to study the Cross Rock project.

Stevenson said a meeting of the financial group, technical group and Maine citizens interested in the project which had been scheduled for "sometime this week" will take place as planned.

His statement followed an announcement by President Johnson Saturday that he will ask Congress for immediate authorization to start construction of the Dickey project.

That announcement, in which the President also said the Passamaquoddy plan for harnessing the tides will be studied further, "merely confirms what Secretary of the Interior (Hubert) Udall stated last January, namely that Quoddy would be shelved, but that the Dickey Dam project would be presented by itself," Stevenson declared.

His statement referred to the "greatly reduced federal power project" he also described the Cross Rock project as "state controlled" and the Dickey Dam plan as "federal."

President Johnson's announcement said he had approved and will send to Congress a report based on a four-year study which outlined a broad program for resource development in the New England area.

Picture on Page 18

First Full U.S. Infantry Unit Arrives In South Viet Nam

BAIGOR, South Viet Nam (AP)—The first full-sized U.S. infantry unit arrived Monday for duty in Viet Nam.

A reinforced battalion—presumably 3,000 men—of the Army's 1st Division, famed in World War II as the "Big Red One," put ashore at Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon.

Other major weekend developments: Communist China charged that four U.S. aircraft flew over its Yunnan province and warned that the Chinese army was "in full battle array."

The Pentagon denied the air intrusion charge. U.S. warplanes continued to hammer targets north of Hanoi, including the old French fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

The men of the "Big Red One," whose home base is Fort Riley, Kan., arrived in central Viet Nam aboard a troopship. They probably will be called on to provide security for the Cam Ranh Bay area, where Army engineers are turning the natural harbor into a large port facility

Meet Newsmen

President Lyndon Johnson is flanked by his two new military aides Sunday at the LBJ Ranch at Stonewall, Tex. At left is Air Force Maj. James Cross and at right is Army Maj. Hugh Robinson. (AP Wirephoto)

Rusk Warns Viet Cong Supporters Idea Of Sanctuary In War Is Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday that North Viet Nam supporters "must take fully into account" that the Viet Nam war "is the idea of sanctuary is dead."

Other U.S. sources said that Red China has been told those who might join in an attack on South Viet Nam could not expect immunity from reprisal.

Peking has made known that it understands this U.S. position, the sources stated.

The American officials who disclosed this decision to say whether this exchange of views took place at the periodic U.S.-Chinese ambassadorial talks at Warsaw or elsewhere.

Rusk made his public remarks in a radio-television interview, ABC's "Issues and Answers," while discussing the

LBJ Introduces Two New White House Military Aides

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson worked and worshipped on a bright summer Sunday and introduced a pair of new White House military aides—one a Negro and the other a white. Johnson also appointed Negro attorney William Brennan Bryant to a federal judgeship in Washington.

Robinson and his wife were flown down from Washington and were presented to news cameras along with Maj. and Mrs. Cross, on the front porch of the LBJ Ranch house beside the Pedernales River.

Storer To Purchase Control Of Northeast

BOSTON (UPI)—Storer Broadcasting Co. of Miami, Fla., one of the largest independent radio and television broadcasters in the nation, announced Sunday it would purchase a controlling interest in Northeast Airlines.

George B. Storer Jr., president of the broadcasting firm, said the stock owned by Hugh Tool Co. (Toolco) was primarily held in trust by Aetecoe on chanced "on or before July 30."

The controlling interest, currently held in trust by Attorney Louis J. Hector of Miami, represents 97,226 shares of Northeast stock, which, under a purchase option agreement, would be worth $4,131,323.

Today's Chuckle

Poise is that quality which enables you to buy a new pair of shoes while ignoring the hole in your sock.

To Make Coast Film

Leaving the Portland Yacht Club Sunday to make a film called "The Offshore Islands of Maine" are, from left, actress Joanne Jarrett, director William Hoffman, producer J. Harvey Howells, Brunswick, and Henry Selvester, Miss Jarrett's husband.

The film, to be released in November by the Department of Economic Development, shows how visitors can explore the coastal waters. (By Staff Photographer Johnson)

Prayer For Today

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, send the angels and the hosts of heaven to bless the day, we thank Thee for the moments of quietness that come to us when we withdraw from the world around us and, within some shrine of nature, behold the wonders of Thy creation in these glorious summer days. In the midst of the beauty Thou has created for our enjoyment may we be still aware that Thou art God. Then, after expressing our blessing of Thy love and peace, may we return to the "crowded ways of life" with a renewed faith and a renewed sense of the challenge of the day with courage and faith; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

News, Features On The Inside

The Weather
Mostly sunny, pleasant today. Chance of showers late Tuesday. Full report on Page 2.
DESPITE WHITE HOUSE'S emphasis on Viet Nam policy, observers believe some changes are bound to come under Ambassador Lodge. Page 3.
WHITES, NEGROES stage marches in tense Bogalusa. Page 4.
WATER CRISIS in New York grimmer than the one in 1950. Page 9.
BAR HARBOR HAS CHANGED, but the rich can still find privacy on other parts of Mt. Desert Island, writes Frank Ripper on Page 12.
PHANTOM JET PILOTS describe air battle north of Hanoi in which two MIGs were blasted from the air. Page 17.
HOUSE GOP LEADERS criticized for Viet Nam position. Back Page.
Always Classified	8 Crossword	19 Jumble	16 Television
19, 21 Editorials	17 Letters	7 Theater	8
18 Letourneau	13 Town, City
Clearing Graham	18 Letters	12 News, 10, 11
House 6 Green	16 Sheep	12 Women's
Comics 16 Horoscope	16 Sports	13, 15 Page	10

DIAL 775-3151
Classified Advertising 8 A.M.-5 P.M.
FOR ALL OTHER DEPARTMENTS
DIAL 775-5811

Newsbeat
Special Report:
PORTLAND: PORT IN TROUBLE
An in-depth probe of Portland's dormant waterfront facilities.
9:00-9:30 PM
Channel 13